Course description

Teaching and Learning - Extension, 1 week

Details of approval

Ratified by the board of the Department of Educational Sciences (Uvet/AHU) 2022. The course description is valid from 2022-01-01.

Aim

The course aims to give the participant the opportunity to develop as an academic teacher in a Swedish higher education context.

Learning outcomes

In order to pass the course, the participant should, in writing, have demonstrated the ability to:

- reflect upon and problematise student learning in the context of a higher education teaching and learning activity, using relevant theories and research
- discuss experiences from education and teaching using well-grounded arguments.

Course design

The course is comprised of an individual project including planning, reading, and executing the project, followed by the writing of a reflective report in English or a Scandinavian language. The participant chooses one of the following project types:

- an auscultation
- an investigation into student learning
- implementation and evaluation of a teaching and learning activity
- arranging a seminar on teaching and learning.

Scope and assessment

The course equals one week of full-time work, i.e. 40 hours. In order to receive a course certificate, the report must be assessed and passed. In the event that a course participant does not complete a course within specified time limits, all course components must be submitted within three years of commencement in order for a course certificate to be issued.

Entry requirements

Completion of the course Teaching and Learning in Higher Education, or equivalent.

General information

Teaching and Learning - Extension is open to teachers, and staff with teaching assignments, at Lund University. The course is based on the framework for qualifications provided by The Association of Swedish Higher Education (SUHF). The teaching language is English but the report can be written either in English or a Scandinavian language.
